

Georgia Nature Center Field Trip

DRESS: Students should wear clothes and shoes you don't mind them getting dirty in case trails are muddy. If it will be raining, or the high is going to be less than 65 degrees on the field trip day, students should bring a jacket.

WEATHER: If rain is forecast, students should wear rain gear and/or bring an umbrella. Tours are only rescheduled in the event of very heavy rain, or a severe weather watch or warning at the nature center on the field trip day.

FOOD: Most groups bring a picnic lunch to eat in our covered picnic area. The school will advise you whether or not students should bring a bag lunch from home. Healthy snacks and drinks are available for $1 to $2 during lunch.

EDUCATIONAL STORE: If you can afford to do so, please send your child with a small amount of cash since many students like to bring home a live carnivorous plant or educational solar kit after the field trip. Carnivorous plants range in price from $5 to $15 each, or 1 each of 4 different plants for $25. Solar powered hat fans, solar car kits and solar grasshopper toys are available for $25 each. For students who cannot afford to purchase plants, a few free carnivorous plants will also be given away to up to four students in the group who answer certain questions correctly.

PARENTS CAN JOIN THIS TRIP: Would you like to join this trip so you can also view the Next Generation Home, the Clean Energy Exhibition, Organic Farm, Tornado Alley Trail and Carnivorous Plant exhibits? Parents can join this trip by paying $15 each upon arrival. Parents must usually drive separately from the school buses, please check with the school to verify this. Directions are on our website. Please arrive early to avoid missing the tour.

HANDICAPPED STUDENTS: Please call the center at 1-800-800-2786 ext. 9696, 24-hours in advance if your student will be in a wheelchair, on crutches or for any other reason will have difficulty on nature trails. Trails are divided into 10 to 20 minute walks between exhibit areas, with a total of 1-mile of walking during the trip. Those unable to walk on certain trails will be given a behind the scenes tour of parts of the nature center not seen by the other students until the group catches up with them. An ADA compliant restroom is available.
